

PUBLIC QUESTIONS TO CABINET – 12 April 2018

Question 1

Mr P Eyles, Hereford

To: cabinet member, infrastructure

Under current plans councillors will only be told the number of houses affected by the bypass after a route is chosen. This must be wrong. May councillors now be told how many houses lie within 300 metres of all the potential routes, before they take a decision, in order to permit a fair and informed selection? Otherwise, would an Inspector not consider the decision process to be flawed?
